Application: Part-Time Junior Analyst

Dear Hiring Team,

I came across the Part-Time Junior Analyst position on JobTeaser and wanted to check whether it is still open, as I would like to apply. I have been drawn to the finance industry for a while now, and what appeals to me about Systematic Growth specifically is the chance to see it from the inside: how an investment organisation actually runs, deal by deal, rather than from a textbook.

During my internships at IBM, I worked directly with clients in the financial sector and saw first-hand how much careful documentation and process discipline that kind of work demands, which is exactly the environment I am looking for in this role. My background is technical rather than in finance: through several years of software and data engineering work, including building a pipeline that processes over 30 billion records, I am used to handling large amounts of structured data accurately and building reliable, repeatable processes, skills that translate directly to maintaining registers, documentation, and administrative workflows with precision.

I am a structured, detail-oriented person who takes ownership of what I am given, and I would welcome the opportunity to bring that to your finance and operations team.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss my application further.

Best regards,
Leonard Eckert
